[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., May 17.—Danville and Lynchburg battled here this afternoon without a result for nine long innings in one of the most beautifully played games of the season, the final score, when called on account of darkness by Umpire Pender, being 1 to 1. Both Griffin and Morrissey, the opposing twirlers, were in splendid form, and the brilliant support accorded each was responsible for keeping the score down.

Griffin was put out of the game in the seventh inning for disputing a decision of Pender, and he was replaced at third by Kunkle. Pender's work here has not been altogether as satisfactory, as it night have been. The score follows:

RESULTS YESTERDAY. Richmond, 0; Norfolk, 1.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Tars took the second game of the series from the Colts to the tune of 1 to 0. There was only a handful of fans present to see the fastest and prettiest game of the season, but those dwelt for an hour and a half in "happy ling of the two teams. The reversal of form of the Tars was an eye-otener to the fans.

Analyzed, the game went to Norfolk in the first inning, through the want of judgment of Titman, who had been shifted to left field, Brown being out of the game with a limp, and Shaw playing third. It was done as follows.

Busch opened the game with a double to centre. He was advanced to third by Bonner's out, third to first, Murdock sent up a high foul, it going almost to the left field bleachers, and Titman, with fast footwork, got under it for a put-out, but in turning slipped and could not throw home, Bonner's coring. The mistake was in catching it he ball, it being a foregone conclusion, he being so far back, that Bonner would score on the throw-in. Mullaney walked, but was thrown out stealing second.

In the fifth and minth, the visitors made a rally, getting two hits in the fifth and a lift and error coming in the hinth, but Fox steadled down, and retired the side without a score. In the sixth the Tars tried for another score, getting three men to first, one on a free pass, another getting hit, and Chandler making the only other hit the locals registered in the game, but an easy fly to right and Verbout fanning Tiedman ended all hopes. Ten years ago the use of cotton oil for edible purposes was in its infancy. To-day the Southern Cotton Oil Company sells annually 199,090 -barrels to bakers and others for this purpose. Bakers soon found that the oil goes further, and is more convenient to use because of its liquid form, it being their custom to melt wahtever fat they put in bread. The use of this oil has kept within reasonable bounds the cost of other fats, the production of which have not kept pace with the world consumption. The Wesson process deserves the credit of bringing about this large increase in the use of cotton oil, which has conferred the benefit of cheap fats upon those who do not use it, as well as those who do by increasing the supply of edible fat. The South is by far the largest consumer of oil, as well as Snowdritt Hogless Lard made from cotton oil, and is rapidly becoming independent in respect to fat supplies of the corn and hog producing States.
